

1. You can choose to cite in any way you want. I would recommend "Chicago Style" since that is what Historians use. Go to: <http://www.citationmachine.net> However, if you are planning to go into Social Sciences, you may use APA style, if you are going into Humanities, you may use MLA style; if you are going into Sciences, you may use Turabian style.

Article Citation (1): Wilson, H. Canada's D-day clash. Canadian Geographer [s. l.], v. 139, n. 3, p. 24, 2019.

2. What is the thesis of your article (What is the argument it is proposing; note: not the topic). Provide a quote and then paraphrase in your own words. (3 marks 2 for thesis, 1 for quote)

Thesis: Canada even being much smaller than America and Britain militarily, held their own on D-day and succeeded

Quote: "A David hit the beach alongside two Goliaths and did as well or better than the giants"

3. Write three quotes in the middle of the blank space below. Then, ask questions, make comments or observations around it (3 marks for thoughtful responses to each quote - 9 marks).

Three Quotes:

How would D-day distinguish Canada?

Canada showed on D-day that it is powerful

"But for Canada, they were also an opportunity * to distinguish itself..."

Canada was going with 2 powerful countries, America and Britain and fighting alongside them would be a challenge for the not as powerful country.

This shows how a lot of men died on d-day

Juno beach came at cost of many lives.

"Hester himself was one of only three * survivors from the regiment's 10-man B Company."

How did he survive but the others didn't?

This was the beginning of the end for Germany.

"Still by the end of the first day, the Canadians * had secured the beach and cleared German troops from Saint-Aubin-sur-Mer..."

How many Canadians died securing the beach?

Canada completed its mission and distinguished itself

Reliability: Assess the reliability and usefulness of the texts.

Please navigate the following page. <http://www.wikihow.com/Evaluate-the-Credibility-of-a-Source> OR better yet: <http://campusguides.unr.edu/toolkit/evaluting-sources>

Using the vocabulary in the page assess the reliability of each article. (I.e: your response should include terms like accuracy, peer review, authority, coverage, etc...) Or consult the CRAAP Test.

Reliability of the Article 1 (3 marks):

Currency - Yes this article was made in 2019

Relevance - This was made recently so yes its relevant

Authoritative - The author is Harry Wilson and is affiliated with Canada Geographic Enterprises

Accurate - The original sources are cited and yes I can verify.

Purpose - Purpose was to show that Canada can stand side by side next to other countries like America on the battlefields. There is no advertising and biases were stated.

Summary of the Content of your Article 1 (5 Sentences or less) (2 marks):

Doug Hester was one of the 14000 Canadians that landed on the beach on June 6th. Hester and the other Canadians came into contact with hard resistance. By the end of their assault the Canadians had secured the beach but had lost 359 men and many more were injured. Hester was one of three survivors from his regiment who were one of the first on the beach. Overall Canada stood strong against German forces showing that Canada can fight just as good as America and Britain

Cold War Topics - List of Topics For Research

Truman	Atomic Bomb	Potsdam	Yalta	Hiroshima/Nagasaki
Gouzenko Affair	Long Telegram	French Indochine war		Bi-Zonia (Berlin)
Berlin Wall	Berlin Airlift/Blockade			NATO
Korean War	Sputnik/Space Race	Cuban Missile Crisis/Cuba
Vietnam War	Ho Chi Minh	Pol Pot	Gandhi	Palestine War
Suez War	Six Day War	Yom Kippur War		Ayatollah Khomeini
Saddam Hussein	OPEC	The Gulf War
Chiang Kai Shek	Mao Zedong	Long March	Great Leap Forward
Cultural Revolution		Tiananmen Square
Solidarity	Fall of Soviet Union	Gorbachev	Glasnost/Perestroika
Segregation	Martin Luther King	Malcolm X	Apartheid	Mandela